TWO MAYORS WERE REELECTED

The City Elections Were Held on Tuesday in Dover and Franklin

Dover, Nov. 24.—At the city election Tuesday, George J. Foster was re-elected by a majority of 280 over his democratic opponent, Alderman George H. Sherry, the vote standing 1,187 to 807.

Mr. Sherry, however, carried ward 2, his own ward, a Republican stronghold by forty-five votes, and had a big majority in ward 5.

The aldermen and councilmen elected are:

Ward 1—Charles Eaton, Oliver M. Vickery, aldermen; Guy P. Wiggin, Samuel Meserve and William H. Beede, councilmen, all Republicans.

Ward 2—Clement Strouth and Israel Hermon, aldermen; Eli P. Berry, William Clement and Irving F. Wentworth, councilmen, all Republicans.

Ward 3—Frederick E. Richardson and Jerald Starr aldermen; James P. Roberts, Alvin Galusha and Stacy Hanson, councilmen, all Republicans.

Ward 4—Eleanor Jones and John

Davey, aldermen; Ernest L. Lucas, Joseph Heney and Edwin Corson, councilmen, all Republicans.

Ward 5—Patrick Durgin and Patrick Cassidy, aldermen; Patrick McEaneaney, John Clancy and Patrick Mooney, councilmen, all Democrats. The Republicans made a gain of one alderman and one councilman.

Franklin, Nov. 24.—Mayor Duos K. Sawyer, nominated by his own party and endorsed by the Republican party, was returned to the mayoralty chair on Tuesday with a very flattering vote, 649 citizens registering their approval of his successful administration during the year being brought to a close. The Socialist party had the only candidate against the popular young mayor but the best their standard bearer, John P. Murray, could poll, was 96 votes.

Two Democratic councilmen and one Republican were elected for terms of three years. The complexion of the next city government will be unchanged, as there will remain a Democratic mayor, six Republican councilmen and three Democratic councilmen.

MAIL FROM I. J. ASTOR

New York, Nov. 24.—Mail arrived today from J. J. Astor on the yacht Nourmahal at San Juan P. R., showing that the owner, crew and yacht survived the hurricane. Cable communication is not yet restored.

FRITZ—SPINNEY

Mr. J. William Fritz, the popular clerk at A. E. Rand's grocery, and Miss Edla F. Spinney, daughter of Town Clerk and Mrs. Willmont E. Spinney of Eliot, were married in this city on Tuesday evening.

Both are well known young people and many friends will extend congratulations.

RINEER—DONOVAN

Aaron Rineer of Lancaster, Pa., a baker by trade, was married at City Hall on Tuesday afternoon to Miss Marguerite F. Donovan of East Boston. The knot was tied by City Clerk Lamont Hilton.

KITTERY LETTER

Tuesday Night Had Four Events

Moore Family to Move to Shamokin, Pa.

Thanksgiving Parties are to be Numerous

Piscataqua Navigation Co. to Have Two More Barges

Kittery, Me., Nov. 24. Kittery correspondent's telephone 297-5.

Considering the many other attractions in the neighborhood Tuesday evening there was a very good and satisfied audience at the entertainment given at the Second Methodist church. The vocal selections, humorous hits and impersonations of Fred E. Kendall were warmly applauded throughout.

Edward Shapleigh of New Hampshire college is passing the holiday and week end with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Shapleigh of Wentworth street.

Homer E. Gunnison of Kittery Depot was at Kittery Point on Tuesday.

The winners in Tuesday night's sitting of the cribbage tournament at the Kittery Yacht club were Harry Goodrich first, Ralph E. Spinney second and George H. Marden third.

Walter E. Donnell of Lynn is passing the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Donnell of Central street.

If this is regarded as early in the season for a snowfall, let it be recalled that the great Portland gale of 11 years ago occurred as early as Nov. 27. At that time all traffic was completely blocked for a number of days. Last night's northeaster, though totally unexpected, was the heaviest of this season to date, and the sea outside the harbor is correspondingly heavy.

Mrs. Georgia Manson and mother, Mrs. Dannenberg, of North Kittery left today for Newburyport to pass the holiday.

Howard Keene of Lynn will pass the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Keene of the Intervale. His wife, who has been visiting in town for the past two weeks, will accompany him when he returns.

The regular meeting of York Rebekah lodge will be held on Thursday evening, in Odd Fellows' Hall.

At a meeting of the directors of the Piscataqua Navigation company Monday afternoon it was voted to increase the company's fleet by two new barges. It is understood that the new vessels will be six feet longer, two feet wider and one foot deeper than the other barges of the fleet and that they will have a capacity of about 180,000 brick each. They will be built this winter for service in the spring. It is likely that one will be built at Ward's shipyard in Kennebunkport and the other by the Portland Shipbuilding Company of Portland.

There will be a basket ball game and dance in Grange hall tomorrow afternoon.

Frederick Allen of North Berwick, a well known visitor here, has this month been 18 years in the employ of the Equitable Life Insurance Company. As an evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Allen is held by the company officials, November is to be known in its books as Allen month.

Thanksgiving exercises are being held today in most of the schools in town.

Walter L. Ball is confined to his home on Olds avenue by illness.

Silbman A. Bowden has resumed his duties at the navy yard after a vacation.

Miss Dorothy Dalzell of the Traip academy teaching force left this afternoon for her home in Waltham, Mass. to pass the holiday.

Elmer O. Pray of Hingham, Mass., is in town to pass Thanksgiving at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Pray of the Rogers road.

A regular meeting of Constitution Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias, was held Tuesday evening at Odd Fellows' Hall.

Whipple Lodge, Independent Order of Good Templars, meets in Odd Fellows' Hall this evening.

Kittery Point

Kittery Point correspondent's telephone 297-5.

Hiram Thompson left today for a trip to New York combining business and pleasure. He will pass Thanksgiving at his home in East Orange, N. J. Miss Bertha E. Seaward substitutes in the post office during Mr. Thompson's absence.

Mrs. J. James Merry left today for Farmington, N. H., to pass the holiday. Rev. Mr. Merry will follow after delivering an address this evening at the union Thanksgiving meeting at the Free Baptist church.

Clark A. Wyman passed Tuesday with his aunt, Mrs. Otis Silsbee, in Eliot.

Elaborate decorations are displayed today in honor of the holiday at the Horace Mitchell schools. In Principal Hodgdon's room are seen the flags of 24 nations, while Miss Huff's room is resplendent in adornments of red and green.

L. K. Moore and family leave next Wednesday for Shamokin, Pa., where they will reside in the future. Mr. Moore's enlistment in the United States marine corps expires on Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary J. West today closed her house and departed for West Medford Mass., where she will pass the winter with her son, Francis West.

The Kittery Point football team plays the York team in that town Thursday afternoon.

The Lake-built three master M'ne Slauson is bound to this port with a cargo of coal consigned to Bodwell of Manchester, N. H.

A union Thanksgiving meeting will be held this evening at the Free Baptist church.

Barge Kimberlon is bound here with coal from Philadelphia.

Capt. Parker J. Hall, the famous lone navigator who was at this port on his way east, arrived at Boothbay from Calais on Tuesday bound to Nantucket. The Argie may be expected here soon, for Capt. Hall rarely passes this harbor without giving his old friends a call.

The "Living Magazine," including a farce "The Bachelors" was repeated by the Traip Academy senior class at Frisbee's Hall on Tuesday evening. This production was followed by dancing, Horace Rowe presiding at the piano. Punch was served. There was a very satisfactory attendance and the affair was in every way a success. The "table of contents" was as follows:

Cover, Priscilla Going to Church, Alice Coes.

DEATH'S DARK CLOUD

James H. Jarvis Called to His Long Rest

Joins the Silent Majority After a Useful Life

It is with much regret that the writer is called on to chronicle the death of one of the best citizens of this city, James H. Jarvis who passed away on Tuesday at Waltham.

Mr. Jarvis, not feeling well the latter part of last week, left his work at the navy yard and on Saturday went to the home of his daughter at Waltham, when his illness developed to pneumonia, and a noble life passed to the great beyond.

For many years he conducted a hosiery mill in company with his brother at the corner of Bartlett and Islington streets, where the firm did a prosperous business, being at that time one of the few manufacturing firms of its kind in this section of the country.

Following the death of the junior member of the firm Robert Jarvis, the firm went out of business and the deceased then entered the employ of the government at the navy yard as an engineer in the department of steam engineering, a position he held until electricity took the place of steam as a motive power in the machine shop a few years ago when he was transferred to the machinist crew. He was an expert in anything that pertained to machinery and no man was ever on the payroll at Portsmouth navy yard who commanded more respect than James H. Jarvis.

Though a man of retiring disposition he was one who was interested in all that was for the good of his fellowmen and many are the men who today have only words of praise for some kind act done for them by him, whom they liked so well in life and who now feel his death with much sorrow.

During his long residence here his many sterling qualities justly won for him a warm place in the hearts of all those who were privileged to enjoy his loyal friendship and now laying down the burden of a long, useful life, he has surely entered into the rest and peace prepared for those who have nobly "fought the good fight."

Those left to mourn his loss are his wife one sister, Mrs. Harry J. Freeman of this city; a daughter Mrs. F. L. Preble, and one son, Everett Jarvis, of Waltham.

PROMOTED TO CAPTAIN

Inspector McGarr, Who Advances Well Known in This City

The friends of Police Inspector John McGarr in this city are nothing with pleasure his appointment to the grade of captain in the police department of Boston with assignment to the bureau of criminal investigation with advanced salary. His wife is former Miss Margaret McEvoy of this city where the inspector is widely known during the years he has been affiliated with the Boston police department.

Extra vaudeville has been secured for the holiday at Music Hall.

EVENTS OF ELIOT

The Thanksgiving Happenings in This Maine Town

Deer Hunters Are Out--What Will the Harvest Be?

Eliot, Me., Nov. 24. No special Thanksgiving services will be held in the Eliot churches. The weekly prayer meetings are devoted to consideration of the theme of thankfulness. There will be a genuine giving of thanks if Tuesday night's half inch of snow, and some rain along with it, are soaked into the ground, where the moisture will assist in relieving the water famine.

Charles Partridge of South Eliot is at home from Lawrence Mass., for the holiday.

Frank Wherren has closed his cottage on the river bank and returned to the family home on Bolt hill for the winter.

The deer hunters were out numerously on the first snow this morning.

Otis Silsbee has been drawn as traverse juror to serve at the January term of York county supreme court at Alfred. Eliot does not furnish a grand juror this year.

Seventeen at dinner will be the Thanksgiving party at Moses M. Goodwin's in East Eliot. Mrs. Goodwin will be visited on that occasion by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Mills of Wells; her brother, Winslow Mills of Portsmouth, with his wife and son; her sister Mrs. Horace Dyer of Somerville Mass., with her baby son; and her sisters, Miss Ethel Mills of North Berwick and Miss Emma Mills of Boston.

Special Thanksgiving exercises are to be held in the No. 6 school this afternoon under the direction of Miss Grace Higgins, teacher.

Numerous family gatherings will be held tomorrow.

MORSE CASE IS STAYED

New York, Nov. 24.—Charles W. Morse, who is a federal prisoner in the toms, awaiting the outcome of a legal fight which is being made to keep him from serving a 16 year sentence in the penitentiary for violation of the national banking laws, will have cause for thanksgiving in that he won on Tuesday a preliminary move for a new trial.

The petition of Martin W. Littleton, counsel for Morse, seeking an amendment to the mandate of the U. S. court of appeals which affirmed Morse's conviction by the U. S. circuit court, was granted in a decision handed down late on Tuesday afternoon, and gives Morse the right to apply to the lower court for a new trial.

THE WEATHER

Wednesday night and Thursday—Fair with light northerly winds and probably some rise in temperature.

The vaudeville show at Music Hall Thanksgiving afternoon will start at 1:00 p. m. Doors open at 12:45 p. m.

Fight Pictures Twice Today

No man ever fought Jack Johnson the world's heavyweight champion, who is now matched to meet James J. Jeffries, the white man's hope for pugilistic supremacy, ever made the wonderful black man fight as hard as did Stanley Ketchell, the middle-weight champion.

Though going out of his class, Ketchell was not disgraced by the wonderful fight he put up, in his attempt to wrest the championship emblem away from the negro. The fight pictures made of this fight at Coffroth's pavilion at Colma, tell better than anything else what wonderful gameness the Michigan boy displayed in meeting Johnson a man outweighing him at least thirty pounds.

These moving pictures which are declared to be the best ever made of a battle between topnotchers, show every move and blow during the twelve rounds the fight lasted.

Special arrangements have been made, whereby they will be shown at the Portsmouth Music Hall today, afternoon and evening.

"The Man on the Box"

On next Friday evening at Music Hall, theatre goers of this city and vicinity will have an opportunity to see the dramatization of Harold McGrath's popular novel "The Man on the Box," which was made for Henry E. Dixey, and in which he starred for two very successful seasons.

The cast of the special company presenting the play here is headed by Wilmer Walter, a young American actor who has been connected with several Broadway productions in past seasons, and he and his supporting company play the comedy with just the right proportion of exaggeration and elegance to make an evening's entertainment of delicious foolery. Under their touch it seems the most natural thing in the world for a perfectly sane young gentleman to attempt a practical joke by playing coachman and to bring up in the police court because he had mounted to the wrong box; and quite the natural consequence for the young lady, to the box of whose carriage he had mounted, to pay his fine and to hire him for the coachman he pretends to be, that she may find out at her leisure who he really is. So they beguile us step by step into believing in their escapades. And all because they play the comedy naturally and vivaciously and even with elegance. They act as men and women are supposed to act; they point their satirical comicalities guilelessly unconsciously of them.

The play will be presented with special settings, with no detail of stage production slighted, and the presentation is truly one of the theatrical events of the season.

Chevalier at Keith's

That Albert Chevalier has lost none of his art but on the contrary has increased in his drawing power as an entertainer, is being evidenced at Keith's theatre in Boston, where he is delighting large audiences with his characterization of English types with which his name has been for years identified. Those who have seen and heard him can readily understand the great sensation he created in Chicago, and it is no surprise to hear that he is being held over for another week at Keith's. Chevalier never was better than he is now and unlike most great artists who have endeavored to maintain their reputations he has not only found worthy successors to such classics as "My Old Dutch," and "Misses' every winks," but he has gone even one better with his new songs such as "The Work-house Man" and "I've Got 'er at." This last song is one of the best things Mr. Chevalier has ever given us. We are not familiar with the type in this country, but the artist enables us to enjoy it to the fullest extent.

For his last week he is surrounded by a bill of headlines, any of them new to Boston. One of the most interesting will be Beatrice Ingram & Company, in a new comedy sketch called "The Duchess," which is said to be a sensation of laughs from start to finish. Will Rogers, the famous lasso expert will also appear. Lillian Shaw, the eccentric comedienne, who is always good for half an hour of sustained laughter, comes with new songs, and others are the Tasmanian Van Disman Troupe, one of the largest companies of woman acrobats in America; Irma Fox, the magician, Browning & Lavan in a new sketch called "The Recruiting Office" the Three Donalds, a musical act, and Doherty & Harlow who will be seen for the first time in travels.

Boston Grand Opera. Third Week of Season

The third week of the season at the Boston Opera House promises to keep up the high record already established at Boston's new temple of music. The repertoire for the week is a most interesting one and while some of the operas are repeated music lovers will have an opportunity to hear at least two that have not been given here for some time.

On Monday night Mme. Frances Alda, of whom the public has learned to expect something out of the common, made her debut as Gilda in "Rigoletto." Her rendition of this role is said to be one of the most interesting performances in her repertoire. The cast for "Rigoletto" is a remarkable one throughout and includes Constantino as the Duke.

There was no performance Tuesday night but on Wednesday Alice Nielsen, who returns from remarkable artistic success with the Metropolitan Opera company in Philadelphia and New York, will be heard again as Mimì in "La Bohème" with Constantino as Rodolfo and Matilde Lewicka as Musetta. "La Bohème" will be repeated Saturday night at the debutant performance when Ruby Savage will make her first appearance as Mimì and the cast will be practically the same except that Vincenzo D'Alessandro will sing Rodolfo.

On Thursday evening there will be a double bill. "L'Pagliacci" will be given with Hatfield Lewicka as Nedda, and "Cavalleria Rusticana" will follow with Mme. Bonallegna in the role of Santuzza.

Another important event of the week, ranking in importance with the debut of Mme. Alda on Monday night, will be the presentation on Friday evening of "Donizetti's opera in three acts "Don Pasquale." The role of Norina will be sung by Alice Nielsen, who has already won great distinction in the part, not only in this country but also at Covent Garden. The Don Pasquale will be Antonio Pin-Corsi, who has made the reputation of being one of the world's greatest grand opera comedians.

For Saturday matinee the announcement is made that Mme. Lydia Lipkowska will return for a single performance of Delibes' "Lakme." Since her appearance here Mrs. Lipkowska has made her New York

ARMS VS. ARMORY

Test To Be Made in England on Practical Lines

Washington, Nov. 24.—It has become somewhat of a naval fashion to test the respective strength of arms and armor by using some old warship as a target. It is now announced that England will shortly begin a series of important gunnery and torpedo experiments with the old battleship Edinburgh.

Says the United States Gazette, which is a consistent advocate of a secrecy in these official trials: "Unfortunately nearly all the data obtained at the Hero experiments off the Kentish Knock some months ago was published broadcast and appeared in foreign newspapers nearly as soon after the firing took place as in the publications of this country. This date, however, dealt largely with fire control arrangements as the old ship sank before the other damages caused by the 'soft nosed' projectiles could be properly estimated. In the Edinburgh other problems will be tackled. The earlier experiments in the Hero have resulted in the modification of our fire control arrangements however, which, it is believed, is not known to our rivals, but which place us in a superior position to them. The French have been busy with firing experiments at old battleships of late, and have contrived to keep their secrets with great success, and since naval rivalry has become so keen between European nations it is time we began to follow the example of continental countries in this direction, especially as the new 13.5 inch gun will be used against the old battleship Edinburgh, for this is the new primary gun for our future super-Dreadnoughts."

WARD 2 REPUBLICANS

The Republicans of Ward 2 are notified to meet in caucus at the Ward Room at 7.20 o'clock Friday evening, Nov. 26, to nominate candidates to be supported at the next city election and transact any other business properly coming before the caucus.

Per Order of Committee.

The clubs will keep open house tomorrow.

WARD 3 DEMOCRATS

A Democratic caucus for Ward 3 will be held in the ward room on Friday evening, Nov. 26, at 7.30 o'clock.

Per order Committee, WILLIAM COGAN, Chairman, JOHN LEARY, Secretary.

The P. A. C. are to start their annual cribbage tournament on December first and a big entry is assured.

DIED AS RESULT OF INJURIES

Michael Buckley died at the Cottage hospital at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, the result of injuries received at the Bartlett street crossing on the evening of November 10th. Buckley was struck by a shifting engine and run over, and at the hospital his left leg and his right foot were amputated. At that time he was very weak from loss of blood, and considering that he was 75 years of age, the attending physicians did not hold out much hope for his recovery. He however gave the hospital authorities and the attending physicians a surprise when he made rapid recovery despite his age, and was getting along finely until Monday, when he began to fail, and Tuesday he was given up and he died at about three o'clock.

NEWMARKET

Arrangements are being made for a football game and athletic sports by the Exeter Athletic club and Newmarket Athletic Association to be held at Newmarket on Thanksgiving day. The interest centers in the 100 yard dash, which is to be run for a purse of $50, between William Fuller of Exeter and Herbert Howcroft of Newmarket. These two met in a race of the same distance last July, and it was won by Howcroft, but Fuller's backers are confident that he can turn the tables on the Newmarket boy, who is acknowledged to be a fast man for the distance.

There is also considerable rivalry between the two football eleven and they make it a point to meet annually on Thanksgiving day at the Hall Driving park at Newmarket. The Newmarket Athletic Association will be captained by William E. Riddell, the baseball player and athlete, and his football eleven will be composed chiefly of New Hampshire college players.

The Exeter Athletic club will be captained by Fred Banes and his team will be a strong one, prepared to give the Newmarket aggregation a close game. The contest and race will attract many from here.

A WRONG NOTION.

ECZEMA NOT A BLOOD DISEASE

Eczeema, the most common of all skin disorders, is no longer considered a blood disease by the best physicians. Internal medicines and physical are practically useless in treating it. External remedies used heretofore have frequently been beneficial, but the permanent cure of eczeema was long thought to be impossible. It was this deplorable condition that inspired the chemist who discovered the new remedy Cadum. Since Cadum was introduced a short time ago, experience has shown that long treatments with it are unnecessary, two or three weeks being usually sufficient for an ordinary case of eczeema. A single application will entirely subdue the itching, and will also accomplish wonderful results in ringworm, itch, acne, scabies, itching piles, chafing, boils, inflamed skin, red and inflamed noses, pimples, blackheads, etc. Where the disease presents an unsightly appearance, the thin coating of Cadum almost conceals the cure. The gratifying results which have attended the use of Cadum in the treatment of eczeema and other skin diseases warrant the belief that there never has before been introduced to the public such an efficient and perfect product as Cadum. It is free from all poisonous and dangerous mixtures. Every ingredient is set by a standard of purity is set by the Pharmacopoeia, complies with the standard, so as to secure the great efficacy which this new remedy possesses. All druggists supply Cadum at 10c and 25c per box.

MUST STAND ON ITS OWN MERITS

Status of Every Anti-Trust Prosecution

THE STANDARD OIL CASE

Administration Not Scared by Decision of Circuit Court—Holding Company as a Legal Entity Not Attacked—Puts Quiet on Purpose to Amend Sherman Act at Coming Session of Congress—Law Really Too Drastic

Washington, Nov. 24.—No important or sensational moves by the administration are expected to follow the decision of the United States circuit court at St. Paul declaring the Standard Oil company a combination in restraint of trade.

It has been broadly assumed that the decision was of such a blanket nature that all holding companies could be put out of existence under it, and that a vigorous campaign by the administration could easily result in dissolving all the trusts in the country. This view does not represent the attitude of the administration. Said a man who does represent it:

"The decision of the circuit court is effective and satisfactory as far as it applies to the Standard Oil company, but notwithstanding this decision every anti-trust case must stand on its own merits. The holding company as a legal entity is not attacked by the decision, and wherever suit is brought to dissolve a holding company the prosecution must prove that the combination is defective operating in restraint of trade. The decision is extremely important as indicating the possibilities under the Sherman act, but it does not of itself make all trade combinations illegal."

Neither it is believed here that criminal action will be instituted against John D. Rockefeller and his associates. The object of the prosecution was to resolve the Standard Oil combination back into its constituent parts, and it is held that if the officers of the company in good faith carry out the decree of the court, which compels a separation of the various branches of the business, the government will hold that the prime purpose of the action has been fulfilled. Should the officers of the company ignore the decree their status might be different.

An interesting result of the decision will be probably to put a quietus upon the purpose of the administration to amend the Sherman act at the coming session of congress. While it cannot be said that President Taft has abandoned this purpose, influential members of congress have pointed out to him that the country will be very suspicious of any legislation which seeks to weaken a law under which it has been found possible to dissolve the Standard Oil trust.

The real defect in the law is that it is too drastic and makes illegal even the most harmless of trade restrictions; nevertheless the lawyers understand this point better than the populace, and with the approach of a congressional campaign in which Republican supremacy in the house is threatened, the leaders may think it well to wait before correcting a condition which, however unjust, is loaded with political dynamite.

NEW ERA FOR THE NEGRO

Laying of Cornerstone for Science Hall at Howard University

Washington, Nov. 24.—Within the Howard university grounds there was laid the cornerstone for the new science hall, which is being constructed at a cost of $90,000, the amount appropriated by congress.

The occasion was significant in that this will be the first institution intended for the advanced training of physics, chemistry and biology ever erected in connection with a college for negroes.

It will be devoted to the instruction of not only the largest body of negro students in the world, but also for the more careful training of the 400 negro students in the school of medicine of the university.

Double Drowning Accident
Newburyport, Mass., Nov. 24.—Two men were drowned and two rescued from a capsized dory in the Merrimack river. The dead are David McKenzie, foreman of the construction work on the new chain bridge, and an Italian. McKenzie took three of his workmen out in a dory to pick up an anchor rope, and a wind squall overturned the craft.

Supposed Black Hand Outrage
Danville, Ill., Nov. 24.—An explosion of dynamite in the fruit and wine house of Joseph Mascari damaged twenty-five buildings in the business district of the city to the extent of $50,000. Mascari believes the "black hand" is responsible for the explosion.

Congressman Burned to Death
Kansas City, Nov. 24.—Representative David A. DeArmond, one of the most prominent Democratic members of congress, and his grandson, Wadsworth, aged 9, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the DeArmond home at Butler, Mo.

DEATH OF SOLON CHASE

"Sage" of Old Greenback Party Dies Unexpectedly in His Home

Chase's Mills, Me., Nov. 21.—Solon Chase, aged 86 years, the "sage" of the Chase's Mills, the man who won a world-wide reputation for his radical political views and his adherence to the Greenback party, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Chase was born at Chase's Mills Jan. 14, 1823, the son of Isaac Chase, one of the early settlers, who cleared his own farm and established the village of Chase's Mills.

His life was uneventful until he was about 50 years of age, when he "got the Greenback religion" and felt a call to preach, and for ten years he was a prominent figure in the political world, stumping nearly every state in the union, advocating the principles of Greenbackism.

"Them steers," and "too much hog in the dollar" became household words, and his ideas and principles were admired by thousands who never saw him or heard him speak.

Mr. Chase was twice nominated for congress, but was defeated each time.

TAYLOR LEAVES JAIL

Boston Banker Has Been in Confinement For Eighteen Months

Providence, Nov. 24.—Thomas D. Taylor of Dorchester, Mass., who has been in jail in this city since March 27, 1908, having been arrested in a civil action alleging conspiracy with reference to the disposal of assets of the New England Trust company of this city, was released from jail yesterday afternoon.

The release was the result of a decree entered by Justice Tanner of the superior court, authorizing John P. Beagan, receiver of the trust company, to enter into agreement with Taylor for the settlement of the claims against him in connection with the suspension of that company.

VON VALKENBURGH

WINS RICH WIDOW

Had Not Been Mentioned as Mrs. Chapman's Suitor

New York, Nov. 24.—Mrs. William H. Chapman, the $10,000,000 widow, surprised her friends by being married at her apartments in the Hotel St. Regis to Philip Von Valkenburgh.

Although several men's names have been mentioned as aspirants for her hand, Mrs. Chapman seems to have kept her own counsel, and Von Valkenburgh has not been mentioned as one of her suitors.

Everywhere she went in Europe an army of noble suitors, rich and otherwise, mostly the latter, followed her. She is said to have received upward of 700 love letters.

Von Valkenburgh is a descendant of an old Dutch family of this city. His personal fortune is estimated at $20,000,000.

RETRIAL OF MULLINS CASE

Motion is Formally Filed by Attorneys For Mantle and Delorey

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 24.—A motion for a retrial of the Mullins case, in which the defendants, James Mantle and Peter C. Delorey, were convicted last week, the former being found guilty of murder in the second degree and the latter of manslaughter, has been filed with the clerk of courts of Middlesex county by attorneys for Mantle and Delorey. A new trial is asked on the ground that the verdicts were against the weight of evidence and against the law.

The day after the findings were returned the Greek consul in Boston visited Mantle in jail and was in conference with him more than three hours. The prisoner was urged to state if he knew anything about the murder of Annie Mullins, but he, as stoutly as ever, maintained his innocence.

ROOSEVELT FOR GOVERNOR

Woodruff Thinks It Would Be Profitable to New York Republicans

New York, Nov. 24.—Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the Republican state committee, speaking of a report that a movement was on foot among certain of the Republican leaders, himself included, to have ex-President Roosevelt nominated for governor of New York upon his return from Africa, said:

"If Roosevelt would consent to run for governor it is my opinion that he would be nominated and elected, and it would be a matter of great advantage to the Republican party in the state of New York."

Baby Now Has Three Eyes

Burrville, Conn., Nov. 24.—Bathel Dehler, a year old, thought that the eyes of a toy cat she was playing with were candy, and after working one loose, which was attached with a pin, she swallowed both. The baby is apparently as well as ever, although the eye and pin have not been recovered.

Warrior Assumes All Blame

Cincinnati, Nov. 24.—In a formal statement issued by Charles L. Warriner, former treasurer of the Big Four railroad, who is under indictment on a charge of embezzlement, he denies that any other person employed by the railroad is connected with his shortage.

MISS LE BLANC IS ARRESTED

Captured Under a Bed in the House of Glover

IS FOUND AFTER FUNERAL

Police Made Search of House, Hardly Realizing What They Were Looking For, When They Unexpectedly Came Upon Girl Who Was Accused by Dying Man of Shooting Him—Mrs. Glover Under Surveillance

Waltham, Mass., Nov. 24.—Hattie Le Blanc was found by the police last night hiding under the bed of Clarence F. Glover, the man whom she is accused of having murdered in his laundry Saturday evening. The girl was placed under arrest, while Mrs. Lillian Glover, widow of the slain man, who, it is believed, has concealed the girl, is virtually a prisoner in her own house.

An officer is stationed in front of it with instructions to allow no one to enter nor to permit Mrs. Glover to leave. The police are convinced that the woman knows more about the tragedy than she has yet told.

The discovery of the much wanted maid took place after Glover's funeral had been held in the house, and while Mrs. Glover, who had barred the door to visitors and detectives alike, was at the grave.

All during the services the girl kept hidden in the bedroom, which is next door to the parlor in which the casket containing the dead man had been placed. None at the funeral was allowed access to this bedroom, and none of the few relatives there dreamed that in the next room to where they sat lay hidden the girl Glover had accused with his dying breath.

Immediately after she was taken into the station house a stenographer and a French interpreter were summoned and the police began their interrogation. The police refused to give out anything that had occurred. Whether or not she had made a full confession, or implicated anyone else in the death of the wealthy laundry proprietor is not known.

When the girl was taken into the station house she did not appear very much excited. She was pale, but apparently cool and far from hysterical. While the police were waiting for a stenographer to arrive Miss LeBlanc asked for something to eat. A generous lunch was brought in, and she ate as if she had been hungry for some time.

It was hinted that her story was strongly implicating another, but the police refused to affirm or deny this. Thousands of men and women filled the streets and vacant land about the police station, and not in years has this city been stirred as it was when the news of Hattie LeBlanc's arrest became known.

The suspicions of the police were first aroused that the pretty, petite Cape Breton girl was being concealed by Mrs. Glover during the funeral yesterday afternoon. Sergeant Curran was off duty, being a night officer, and he went to the house to see that the crowd did not become unruly while watching outside the house when the services were being held.

He made his way inside several times, and saw something that caused him to have an interview with Chief of Police McKenna as soon as the services were over.

At 8 o'clock last evening Curran and McKenna left the police station in a closed carriage and drove quietly to the Glover home on Main street. They were admitted after some argument, and at once began a thorough search of the house. They went from room to room, peering into closets, hardly realizing that they were looking for, but suspicious that some clue of the greatest importance would be found.

They came to the bedroom where Glover himself had slept. Sergeant Curran stooped and glanced under the bed. Then he gave a cry of amazement, and dropping onto his knees reached his arm underneath. He pulled out Hattie LeBlanc.

The scene that followed, what explanation was made by Mrs. Glover, what Hattie LeBlanc said or did the two officers have not yet revealed to the newspaper reporters. Hattie was forced to put on her wraps and was taken quietly down stairs, placed in the closed carriage and driven to the police station.

COPPER TRUST HALTS

Magnates Are Somewhat Disturbed by Standard Oil Decision

New York, Nov. 24.—The proposed $800,000,000 copper combine has been held up, temporarily at least, according to Wall street reports, until lawyers for the interests concerned can figure out the effect the Standard Oil decision will have upon the merger which is contemplated.

Prominent corporation lawyers are quoted as advising that it would be unwise to proceed with the merger plans in the face of a decision as drastic and apparently prohibitive as that of last week.

As a result of these reports all the prominent copper stocks took heavy slumps Tuesday.

Dear John:

I won't be home until 6 o'clock but your dinner is all ready for you. I put it in the Mother's Oats fireless cooker at 11 o'clock this morning and you will find everything hot and steaming just right as always your loving wife Mary.

Why shouldn't Mary have a good time now and then with her friends? John's dinner will be just as well cooked since a Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker is in the house; it will be just as hot and steaming. Mary paid nothing for the Cooker; she saved coupons out of and other Mother's Cereals, and secured a $3.75 Cooker free. She saves 80% of her fuel bills; she hardly goes into the kitchen at all, and she isn't forced to bend all afternoon over a hot stove; she arises an hour later than usual, and doesn't have to rush down stairs to prepare Mother's Oats for breakfast. The coupons are found in:

Mother's Oats
Mother's Corn Meal (white or yellow)
Mother's Wheat Hearts (the cream of the wheat)
Mother's Hominy Grits
Mother's Corn Flakes (toasted)

Ask your grocer to tell you how to get a Mother's Oats Fireless Cooker free. If he doesn't keep Mother's Cereals, write us today, giving his name and yours, and we'll tell you all about the free Fireless Cooker and send you a useful souvenir free.

KILLING OF AMERICANS

United States Will Probe Further Before Moving Against Zelaya

Washington, Nov. 24.—The delay on the part of the United States in taking any action with respect to the killing, by order of President Zelaya of Nicaragua, of the two Americans—Greece and Cannon—is occasioned by the inability of the government up to this time to fix the exact status in Nicaragua of the slain men.

Every effort is being made through government agencies to determine whether these men were members of the revolutionary army or whether they were acting on their own responsibility.

If it can be proven, as seems very doubtful, that they really were responsible for the planting of mines for the purpose of blowing up troopships of the Nicaraguan government and were acting in this matter on their own responsibility, their status would be very different from what it would be were they acting as a part of the revolutionary forces.

It is this point that the state department is trying to clear up before it takes any aggressive action against Zelaya.

A MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE

But Flow of Lava Threatens to Destroy Island Settlement

Teneriffe, Canary Islands, Nov. 24.—Several foreign scientists yesterday climbed the Mountain of Las Flores and made observations of the newly opened craters. The volcano continues to shoot out incandescent masses to a great height, affording a magnificent spectacle at night.

The shower of stones and sand and the flow of lava are so dense as to threaten the complete destruction of the valley of Santiago. The lava flow, however, is slow. It is now within a half mile of Santiago, but is not expected to reach the town for six or seven days.

ENTOMBED MINERS

ARE SURELY DEAD

Bodies of About a Hundred May Never Be Recovered

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 24.—Hope that there still might be alive some of the 189 men known to be entombed in the St. Paul coal mine has been abandoned.

An exploration into what is known as the second vein, where it was thought that the miners probably had barricaded themselves and managed to exist on oats and corn kept there for miles, showed that great portions of the tunnels have collapsed.

It is thought many men were buried under the debris and that if the obstruction is not soon cleared away at least 100 bodies may never be recovered. Fire is still raging in these tunnels, and those portions of the mine in which imprisoned miners might have found a retreat are said to be full of the fatal black damp.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND OUT

Shirtwaist Operators Quit Work to Enforce Demand For More Pay

New York, Nov. 24.—Fifteen thousand shirtwaist makers, of whom 12,000 are women, went on strike in New York and it is expected that ultimately all the shops in the city, employing 40,000 persons all told, will be involved.

The workers' demands are for an increase in the wage scale and shorter hours. The working weeks of fifty-two hours in place of a 54-hour day, now in force, and an advance of from 25 to 30 percent in the rates for piece work, are asked.

NEW TREASURY OFFICIAL

Curtis, Harvard Golf Champion, Is Selected by President Taft

Washington, Nov. 24.—Harvard's golf champion of 1898 has been drafted to Washington to be assistant secretary of the treasury and have direction over the reforms which are being instituted in the customs service. He is James F. Curtis of Boston, captain of the Harvard golf team and intercollegiate prize winner.

Curtis is expected to arrive in Washington on Monday to enter upon his work and golf practice.

Urging Broader Church Union

Paris, Nov. 24.—The more liberal sections of the French Episcopate are beginning to question the wisdom of the militant section, who favor the formation of the league of Catholic voters in the coming elections. The liberals are advocating a broader union, which shall include with the Catholics other conservative forces.

OUR COMING CITY ELECTION

The caucuses have not been held, but already the party standard bearers are known for the coming city election. Both are good men, capable of worthily representing our fair city.

The voters are pretty likely to give a hearty endorsement to the present administration. Mayor Adams has done well by the city. There is no great question of city policy to occasion a strong difference of opinion, but there are a large number of enterprises in progress which must be carried to completion.

The people appreciate the good work of our present mayor and the desirability of giving him a chance to finish the public improvements under way.

City finances have been kept in good shape and the voters are in the mood to give the present administration a rousing endorsement at the polls in December.

A REPUBLICAN TRIBUTE

The tragic death of Congressman David A. DeArmond is worthy of more than a passing notice, for Judge DeArmond was one of the ablest and more influential men of our national legislature. He was sixty-five years of age and had been in Congress since he first took a seat there at the age of forty-five.

Previously he had served in the Missouri legislature and as judge on one of the Missouri circuits.

Judge DeArmond was a dependable substantial sort of man, the kind that can be described as capable of standing without flinching. Not a great creative statesman he was one of those who have the confidence of their fellows. In the opposing party as well as in their own political affiliation.

In Congress this man often saw where two antagonistic elements quarreling over minor matters, while the essentials of the two contentions were of themselves not antagonistic. He performed the useful work of expediting legislation by getting the non-essentials out in such instances. As a lawyer, the soundness of his counsel made him much sought in questions of careful wording of statutes lest they be enacted so as to authorize what it was intended to forbid or should forbid what it was intended to authorize.

The quiet man of Missouri will be mourned by the whole nation, regardless of party lines.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS

Some idea of the race that is being run by the military and naval powers of the world may be obtained from the German estimates for 1910. The naval budget comprises $11,000,000, and is the largest in the history of the nation. The estimates have been received in silence by the newspapers, a discussion of them at the present being regarded as inopportune. It is expected, however, that the details of the new budget will be examined critically when they are published next week. While there will be no modifications in the large shipbuilding programme the naval attaches are awaiting with interest specific information as to what part of the $63,000,000 for new construction will be spent on torpedo boats, submarines, etc. The total budget proposals of the government for the army and navy amount to about $312,000,000, as against $269,460,000 in 1909.

The utility of the finger prints adopted by the army and navy as a means of identification was recently demonstrated. In the case of a man who was believed to be a soldier, found wandering in a delirious condition on the streets of Columbus, O. He was taken in charge by the police authorities of that city and taken to the army recruiting depot at Columbus barracks. There his finger prints were recorded and forwarded to the War department. Their examination there led to the prompt identification of the man as a soldier, and notice was sent to his company commander at his whereabouts. He was sent to an army hospital and given proper treatment.

All sorts of suggestions for the amelioration of the condition of the enlisted man are contained in reports received at the War department. One of the most interesting of these is that made by Maj. C. G. Morton of the inspector general's department. It is in effect an appeal for better manners on the part of officers in their dealings with enlisted men. Maj. Morton says that the use of profanity and the "bawling out" of orders are more common in the army than is realized, and are a prolific cause of discontent among men. It was his experience that the fault complained of was more common among non-commissioned and junior officers than among those of mature years. His suggestion is that whenever and wherever the fault occurs it should be checked by superiors as something as important to the regulars as the supervision of mess and clothing.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Hoofs and Horns Missing

When Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, had finished the discussion of the plans of the monetary commission, of which he is the chairman, in Des Moines the home of Senator Cummins, he was approached by an old farmer.

"You must be an Elk, Senator," observed this man as he shook hands gravely.

"Why do you say that?" asked the Senator, somewhat mystified.

"Because you shed your horns so easily," was the answer of the man, who disappeared in the shout of laughter his joke aroused.—Boston Record.

The Country's Priest Poet

The many heart that have often been solaced by the exquisite lyrics of Father John B. Tabb will grieve to hear of the death of this finest churchman-poet the country has yet known. A priest of the Catholic church, he by no means confined his muse to the service of religion, but cut his beautiful cameos of verse out of all human experiences. He leaves a legacy of poetry to the world small in quantity, perhaps, but of a quality rare and fine. That he is to write no more is cause for profound sorrow.

LITERARY NOTES

Everybody's and the Women

The December Everybody's Magazine begins with an article, "Why" by Elizabeth Robbins, the famous English writer. The editors have asked this conservative woman why her British sisters throw stones and mob cabinet ministers, and the answer is a terrible catalogue of the wrongs and sufferings of our transatlantic cousins female. It seems that there are not enough men in England to give all the women husbands; yet there is danger of a law to prevent these left overs from doing certain kinds of work in which hundreds of thousands of them are now engaged. A magistrate tells a woman that her husband compels her to sleep in the same room with his mistress, unless he also beats her. A man may maintain his wife in luxury for years, and

A TIMELY TOPIC

REV. ALFRED GOODING
Pastor Unitarian Church, Portsmouth

Causes of National Thanksgiving.

THANKSGIVING DAY is commonly thought of as celebrating great harvests, abundant crops, all sorts of material plenty, but historically it has always had a wider meaning. In early colonial times it was often appointed for other reasons than a bountiful harvest. Thus in 1637 there was a Thanksgiving for a victory which had been obtained over the Pequods and for "good news from Germany." The celebration of 1661 was for "stopping the bottles of heaven" and restraining "the excessive rains." It is historically quite fitting that the modern Proclamation should enumerate other causes for gratitude than the enormous material gains of the year. Not that these are to go unmentioned but under the changed conditions of modern times they no longer hold the position of supreme importance which they once held. A national famine is no longer possible because the extraordinary increase in number and effectiveness of means of conveyance and distribution—steamships and railways—has brought it about that no country is entirely dependent upon its own agricultural product, but upon the combined product of the whole civilized world. So that, while we may still rank our abundant harvests among the chief causes for thanksgiving, we need not feel, as our forefathers did, that upon these harvests depends our very life; and that, having thanked God for these we have thanked him for everything else, since nothing would have been possible without them, but we may properly go on to bless Him for other tokens of His goodness.

Most Thanksgiving Proclamations do this. They emphasize the blessings of peace enlightenment moral progress, civil and religious liberty. We need to be specially reminded of these. It is difficult to feel personal gratitude for those large general conditions under which we exist. How forgetful we are of those great possessions which are ours as citizens of a free republic and upon which our happiness and prosperity are based—those fundamental rights, the right to live, to work and to enjoy the fruits of one's labor, the right of free thought, of free speech, of free worship and of self-government. It is well to be reminded of the supreme value of these blessings which have come to be so entirely taken for granted by us, like the atmosphere we breathe and the light we see by. Blessed is the state of that people in whose thought these things have become platitudes which they are almost ashamed to dwell upon. Yet we must renew our appreciation of them from time to time and seek to realize how largely they affect our individual well-being and happiness.

then will every penny of his money and even of hers, away from her and from his daughters. And this in a country that reveres the memories of its women sovereigns!

The Century in 1910

A novel feature of The Century during the coming year will be a series of essays on "Gardens of the Heart" by Miss Hildegard Hawthorne—gardens not the work of professional landscapers, but created by the taste and intelligence of their owners, generally women. One of the gardens to be described has long been in the writer's family.

The Youth's Companion Calendar for 1910

The publishers of The Youth's Companion will, as always at this season, present to every subscriber whose subscription ($1.75) is paid for 1910 a beautiful calendar for the new year. The picture panel which suggests the title, "Venetian," for the calendar was painted by the famous artist, Thomas Moran. His Venetian scene, reproduced in the calendar by thirteen color lithography, will be found well worth preserving long after 1910 is gone by.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Watson's South Sea Soap should be used for a children's toilette. It soothes the child, softens the gums, relieves pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

State of New Hampshire.

A Proclamation by the Governor

Following the precedent established by that band of devoted men who signed the compact in the little cabin of the Mayflower as in 1620 it neared the bleak and inhospitable shores of this, their new world, I hereby appoint Thursday, Nov. 25, 1909, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise. If they had cause for thankfulness surrounded as they were by "war's alarms" famine, and solitude, to a far greater degree have we; and I recommend that the people of our state cease for a time the pursuit of their usual avocations and repairing to their several places of worship, give thanks to Almighty God for having placed us in a peaceful land, teeming with the fruits of husbandry and the products of industry, and in the midst of a civilized and enlightened people.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord this eleventh day of November, one thousand nine hundred and nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-fourth.

HENRY D. QUINBY, Governor.

By His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Council, EDWARD N. PEARSON, Secretary of State.

NEW CASTLE

The Poole Reunion to be Held on Thursday

Ralph Cook Goes to Seattle to Live in the Future

New Castle, Nov. 24. It does not require the graceful rhetoric of executive proclamations, both national and state, to inspire a thankful sentiment tomorrow. A day so dear to the heart of every New Englander. Every one was obliged to attend divine services, a few generations ago and listen to a Thanksgiving sermon, and now the Thanksgiving services that will be most largely attended will be those held in the football fields.

Mr. John Amazeen is visiting relatives in Cambridge.

Mr. Albert H. Bickford is sojourning at the "Hub."

The top notch price of turkey is maddening, and while it may be within the power of the public to combat the schemes of the seemingly turkey trust by refusing to eat it, yet this we fear is impracticable. People may give up eating beef and live as the scriptures say, man cannot live by bread alone; they may give up burning coal and warm themselves by kerosene, but the turkey at this holiday season is a necessary of life.

Mr. William Guphill of the Hampton life saving station passed Tuesday at his home.

Arnold White keeper Little Harbor breakwater lights, and family, have arrived and will occupy the Charles O'Brien homestead.

The hustling members of Wentworth lodge, Knights of Pythias, are passing their season tickets right along for their entertainment which is to be held on Jan. 1, 5 and 6.

Mrs. Evelyn S. White is restricted to her residence by a heavy cold.

Ralph Cook left on Tuesday for Seattle where he will reside permanently.

Every mother's son in New Castle interested in fistic encounters, will be on tick at Music Hall tonight when the Johnson-Ketchell pictures are pulled off.

The work of supplying Port Stark with water from Portsmouth is finished.

There is to be a Poole reunion held in the Town Hall Thanksgiving day and homecomings are being most pleasantly anticipated.

Many home runs from absent sons and daughters are expected tomorrow. Old Home Week is a popular observance, but the week that Thanksgiving day comes in will continue to be old home week for the American people, as it has for two centuries. It is also a day when pleasant and sad memories come to many. It is a day to throw off gloom and be optimistic because of the actual blessings bestowed upon us all, and feel attuned to the gem from the gifted Adelaide A. Poole: O there are voices of the past, links of a broken chain, wings that can bear me back to times which cannot come again; yet God forbid that I should lose the echoes that remain.

Our Customers Are Fashion's Friends

The good old New England holiday, Thanksgiving is close at hand and, while turkeys "the fixin's" are not in our line, suits and "fixings" are

Everything from hat to hose that you need to make the holiday wholly enjoyable we have here.

Our showing of high grade suits and overcoats was never bigger or better than it is this season.

ASTOR AND HIS YACHT SAFE

New York Nov. 24.—The steam yacht Nourmahal with Col. John Jacob Astor on board, arrived at San Juan, Porto Rico, from Mayaguez, on Sunday, Nov. 14, and was still there on the evening of Nov. 17.

All were well on board and the Nourmahal was planning to leave soon for Ponce and from there to some Cuban port before her departure north.

This news of the Nourmahal's safety were brought here by the insular line steamer Harry Luckenbach which arrived late Tuesday from Porto Rican ports.

Capt. Dalton of the Luckenbach on his arrival at quarantine in the afternoon said that it was reported in San Juan that the yacht Nourmahal was waiting there for a friend of Col. Astor, who was on his way there from New York as a passenger on a steamer of the New York & Porto Rico company, Capt. Dalton had no further information concerning the Nourmahal.

The news brought here by Luckenbach makes it positive that no harm came to the yacht in the storm earlier in the month.

The Nourmahal has by this time probably proceeded to Ponce, where she would have been reported had

DINED ON ROAST PIG

Barbecue Club Hold Its Annual Feast and Social Session

The Barbecue Club, one of the organizations that likes good things, especially when it's a roast pig, held its annual feast on Monday evening at Rechabite Hall and no social event of the season will eclipse it.

Charley Lloyd, the father and president of the club was there as toastmaster and, following the event of Monday night, he was satisfied that the club has come to stay. In making the address of welcome, President Lloyd forcibly impressed upon the minds of those assembled that the gathering would look upon politics as a drawback in the club's advancement and wants it understood that the party was there to do justice to the pig and other good things.

After telling the history of the club, (which is wonderful) the plates were turned for fifty and the pig and fixings were put out of sight.

Following the spread this program of entertainment was run off and the talent produced no end of merriment.

CARPENTERS AND JOINERS

Union Men Feel that Their Work is Not Paid High Enough

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Carpenters and Joiners union, No. 921, was held on Tuesday evening at their hall on Daniel street.

There was a large attendance and fifteen new members were initiated.

A smoke talk and collation followed at which good talks were made by many of the brothers along the line of more thorough organization of the building crafts in this city and vicinity, whereby all could be in touch, and a mutual affiliation exist, which would largely benefit each separate organization as well as the building crafts collectively.

It was evident and the general opinion expressed that this branch of the building trade is far underpaid as compared with other localities and in view of the tremendously increasing cost of living, must demand an increase of pay in order to meet obligations to family and community.

NEW BUOYS

To Be Placed at the Approaches to the Harbor of Portsmouth

On the petition of Piscataqua Harbor, No. 87, the small spar buoys at Beacon Lodge, Seaward Lodge, in our river have been replaced by the largest type of Spar buoys so that they will not run under in the fast strength of the tide.

These improvements remind us that the government has never placed any aids to navigation about Portsmouth bridge in the Piscataqua, or any rivers running into it. In view of the large river commerce, and numerous pleasure boats that frequent these waters every obstruction to navigation should be properly marked to the head of navigation at Dover, Exeter and Newmarket.

Knights of Pythias at Funeral

Sportsmen's Club Has Annual Election

Exeter, Nov. 21.—The repairs on the Methodist church are progressing rapidly, and this week the exterior is being painted. The new Sunday school room will before long be ready for use, and when all the repairs are completed, it will be one of the best equipped houses of worship in town.

Wilfred Nason on Monday was taken to the Cottage hospital for an operation. It was a delicate one, and was performed by Dr. Bottomley of Boston. He is reported to be in a comfortable condition today.

A representation from the Swanscott lodge Knights of Pythias went to Haverhill, Mass., today to attend the funeral service of James W. Whidden, a former resident of Londonderry, and a member of the lodge. He was also at one time a resident of Epping.

The Sportsmen's club has elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Wendell B. Folsom; vice president, Albert J. Weeks; secretary, Frank M. Cline; treasurer, J. Warren Tilton. A shoot is to be held Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock.

Miss Mary E. Calof has gone to Pittsfield where she is to spend the coming winter.

George M. Beaton, who has been confined to the Cottage hospital for the past two weeks for an operation has been discharged.

The Thanksgiving recess at the academy began on Tuesday noon, and will last till Friday afternoon.

The regular session of probate court was held on Tuesday, and there was no business of general interest transacted. There were, however, a large number of attorneys present.

Edward J. Hart, the Princeton football player, is visiting his home in town. He intends to leave tonight and witness the Cornell-University of Pennsylvania football contest tomorrow.

OLD TIME BOOK

Was Once Owned by a Boy or Ma in This City

The following letter is likely to interest a good many Portsmouth people:

Rev. Henry B. Williams, Pastor First Baptist Church, 22 Cleveland Ave., Woburn, Mass.

Nov. 23, 1909.

The Herald, Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Sir:—Thirty years ago when I was a boy I bought a book of a second hand dealer in Sacramento, California. It is entitled American First Class Book. I have kept that book all this day; and now that my home is so near that of its original owner I am writing to you to ascertain whether any of your readers know of the parties named.

On the cover is the name of "Samuel G. Bragdon, Portsmouth N. H." in another place is the name "William Bragdon, Scarborough, Maine 1841."

Evidently Samuel G. Bragdon carried the book with him to California by way of Cape Horn, for here and there on the margin of the text where he happened to be reading he made some notes. For example: "Wednesday, June 9, 1852, Lat. 45 degrees, Long. 117, 17. Cape Horn bearing So. West by South half South 120 miles distant. San Francisco bearing N. N. W. 1270 miles distant. A large school of blackfish off lee bow Tuesday night."

It may be that some of your citizens may be interested in this argument of the days of the gold fever; perhaps knew him. I shall be glad to hear from any one who knew this man especially any of his relatives.

Sincerely yours,

HENRY B. WILLIAMS.

OFFICERS NOMINATED

By the 1910 Class at the Plymouth Business School

The first meeting of the class of 1910, Portsmouth branch of the Plymouth Business school, was held on Tuesday, Nov. 23, 1909. The acting chairman was Mr. R. J. Holt, and the secretary was Mr. S. J. Fletcher.

Candidates for the officers were nominated as follows: For class president, Mr. E. D. Nelson, Mr. R. J. Holt, Miss E. G. Raitt; for vice president, Miss B. E. Akerman; Mr. P. M. Trafton, Mr. S. J. Fletcher; for secretary, Miss B. G. Raitt, Miss E. D. Hall, Miss A. B. Ryan; for treasurer, Miss B. A. Akerman, Miss L. A. Hogan, Miss G. A. Adams.

It was voted that there should be three members on the executive committee. The candidates for this committee are Mr. E. A. Green, Mr. H. B. Osborne, Mr. L. A. Caswell, Mr. N. L. Parsons, Miss C. M. Donnell, Miss R. G. Standish, Miss M. G. Randall, Miss E. P. Perkins, Miss A. M. Wardwell.

The subject of a basketball team was discussed but not settled. The meeting adjourned at 9.15. A meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 30, for the purpose of electing class officers.

EVENING SCHOOL

Will Open in This City on Next Tuesday Evening

The evening school will open Tuesday, November 30, at 7 p. m. at the new high school building.

The committee in charge, appointed by the Civic association, under whose auspices the school is to be conducted are Mrs. Florence O. Elery, Mrs. H. C. Hewitt, Miss Martha S. Kimball, Mrs. W. P. Stanley, Mrs. L. H. Thayer, Mrs. H. M. Wiggin and Mrs. Mary J. Wood.

The use of the room at the high school is granted by the board of instruction and the superintendent is to give the committee valuable assistance in getting the matter under way. The sessions will be Tuesdays and Thursdays at the same hour and place. There will be no charge for instruction. There will be one aid teacher who will have the direction and the others are volunteers from among some of our very finest young women.

STOCK COMPANY IS COMING

The Whitefield-Strass company one of the most popular stock companies on the road, will be the attraction at Music Hall all next week, with matinee daily except Monday.

This company played here last season and left a good reputation, having received flattering criticism from both press and public.

The plays are all new and presented exclusively by this company for the first time at popular prices. They include several well known New York successes.

Several high class specialties headed by the "Johnson Sisters," America's foremost singers and dancers, "The Musical Lockwoods," high class musical artists playing a variety of brass, reed and novelty instruments, "New Illustrated Songs," Miss Maude Cleburn, the petite comedienne "Burdette Bros.," the greatest of all comedy acrobats, "Miss Vivian Laid Law," in character songs, and "Mr. Will H. Strauss," that funny fellow.

Ladies' tickets will be issued for Monday night only.

Don't fail to hear Annie Gaidie in her Hebrew singing act, Eagles' Ball, Dec. 3rd, '09.

Is not so much to sell a Suit or Overcoat as it is to get a customer. There is a big difference between selling a man a suit and getting him for a regular customer.

But our object is to sell a man such a good suit the first time that he comes back for another one next season, and keeps coming back until he gets the habit of coming,—a habit that he finds too good to break.

ANTIQUITY OF DICE.

Origin of These Devices Buried in the Remote Past.

Scholars have delved in vain for the origin of dice, which, in various shapes, have been used in games of chance since the dawn of history. Their earliest use was for the forecasting of events and obtaining of divine guidance. Their adaptation to a game of chance was comparatively recent.

There is a surprising number of varieties of dice, but they may be divided into two general classes. The most familiar form is the cube. With two exceptions—the Korean and Etruscan—cubic dice have the spots so arranged that the six and one, five and two and three and four are opposite, making the sum of the opposite sides invariably seven. In all ages the number seven has been regarded with particular awe and as having much mystic import.

The dice just described are not only proper to modern Europe and America, but to classical Greece and Rome, ancient Syria, Persia, India, China, Japan and Siam. The other form is the long, square prism sometimes found amid prehistoric ruins in Europe and existing today in India.

A most interesting form is the top or spinning dice, with four or six sides, which was twirled with the thumb and second finger, of which a specimen was discovered in the remains of Navarais, a Greek colony of 600 B. C. Two specimens of dice have been discovered at Babylon.—Harper's Weekly.

AN ARCTIC RESCUE.

The Feeling When the Relief Ship Came Into View.

Very often during the months of daylight we stood on the cliff straining our eyes to see the longed for relief ship. As the summer of 1900 slipped on we almost despaired, but one day in July, when hope had almost abandoned us, we saw one of the boys jumping up and down and supposed that at last his brain had given way under the strain. In fact, many of us were almost crazy with the monotony and anxiety that were upon us day after day. We watched a moment and wondered which of us would be the next to go off his balance.

When we went to him and saw what he saw, the long looked for relief ship, I don't know whether we all jumped for joy or what we did, for we have no memory of our actions in that hour. Quickly each man gathered his little kit, ready to rush to the boats and leave forever that island where death had stared us in the face for sixteen months and where we had almost given up all hope of ever again looking upon the faces of our loved ones.

In our frantic haste to be gone many of us left behind relics and mementoes which we prized and later regretted the loss of. At the end of sixteen months the relief ship Terra Nova had arrived, and we steamed to Norway, where our party divided, some going to London and others to Germany.—Captain Edwin Collins' Account of the Ziegler Polar Expedition in National Magazine.

Has Seven Sons.

A mother who had only one child, a son, lost him through an accident by drowning when he was seventeen. His body was washed out to sea and never recovered. She very much wanted a portrait of him, and she called a famous artist who was a friend of the family. He asked for every photograph she had of her son from babyhood onward. When the painting arrived it represented a glum little fellow. Playing about were five little children of various ages, but all the same boy as his mother had known him. Coming down the center, young, gay, was the seventeen-year-old lad leading his baby self of one year by the hand. The mother looked at the picture and burst into tears. "I have lost seven sons," she said.

"You had lost six of them before your son died," the artist replied.

Economy.

Wife—Oh, this is awful! These curtains I got at the bargain sale don't match our furniture.
Hubby—Return 'em.
Wife—I should say not—cheap as I got them! We must have some new furniture at once!—Cleveland Leader.

There was a great variety of weather passed up for Tuesday. It eventually came off cold.

SHOT DOWN IN COLD BLOOD

Shocking Murder at Concord of Well Known Business Man.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 24.—Charles H. Fellows, aged 50, a long-time resident and business man of this city, was shot in cold blood about 10.15 Monday, while driving to his home in Bow after the close of his day's business, and died in a few minutes. The motive is believed to have been robbery.

Mr. Fellows kept a small grocery at the junction of Broadway and South streets. On Monday he was detained longer than usual by some one using the long distance 'phone at the pay station in his store.

At 9.50 he talked with his wife over the 'phone and told her that he was about to start home. Two shots were heard about 10.15 within a few rods of Fellows' home, which is reached by a lonely road and is about two miles from his store.

The shots aroused Mrs. Fellows and daughter and several of the neighbors. The horse, apparently frightened by the revolver shots ran down the road and into Mr. Fellows' dock yard. By this time Mrs. Fellows had reached the porch and jumped into the wagon, where her husband's body was hanging back over the seat. She said:

"Why, Charles, what has happened?"

His only words before death came were: "I have been shot."

Florence G. Fellows, the daughter, ran out and notified all the neighbors that her father had been shot and also called up the Concord police. City Marshal Kimball, Deputy Rowe and several policemen, together with Sheriff Charles P. Smith and a deputy were quickly on the scene, as were Dr. G. P. Conn, coroner, and Dr. Sprague.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hammond who live a short distance from the Fellows' home, heard the wagon coming down the road, they having just retired, and later they heard the two shots. They arose and could only see the lantern in Mr. Fellows' wagon as it rounded the curve into the yard. It was very foggy and they saw nothing of the man or men implicated in the murder.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond dressed quickly and went to the house, Mr. Fellows having been dead some time before their arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McKee, also comparatively near neighbors, heard the shots and were quickly aroused, although they thought at first that someone was out shooting stunks.

Messrs. McKee and Hammond took the lifeless body of Mr. Fellows from his wagon and carried it into the house. By this time quite a number of Bow residents had gathered and they at once organized a searching party to aid the police and sheriffs.

BAD BILIOUS ATTACK!

There is nothing that will more completely knock out a man, or woman either, and entirely incapacitate them for work or pleasure, than a bad attack of biliousness. You get up with a headache which increases if you stoop over. You are dizzy when you stand up straight again. Your tongue is coated and your mouth tastes bad. You are irritable and out of sorts. That's biliousness.

If you want to get right again remove the cause. Your bowels are clogged. The natural secretions of the body fail to carry off the poisonous matter. The bile is being absorbed by the blood, and your whole body is crying out against the imposition. Take three Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills at once. Don't wait till you go to bed. Then take two more when you retire. It is astonishing to see how quickly they will relieve. They restore the liver and stomach to normal activity and purify the blood. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep these Little Vegetable Pills on hand. They ward off many ills.

To Cure Constipation
Biliousness and Sick

Woman Frightened by Man Peering Into Window

Mrs. C. H. Morgan, who lives quite a distance down the road was frightened about 9.30 by a man coming up to a window and peering in. She lives alone with her daughter, and was very uneasy over the incident. Just as they were retiring, they also heard two shots in rapid succession.

No one heard any outcry except that of the daughter of Mr. Fellows, who went through the neighborhood shouting, "My papa has been shot; O come and help us."

The search was kept up throughout the greater part of the night. Footprints were traced from a newly plowed field opposite Fellows' home across country and down the road to Bow junction, where apparently the man took the railroad ties, and it is believed, went in the direction of Manchester. The trail was lost at this point, and no further footprints were discovered down the track.

All the surrounding towns were notified at once, but up to this time no line has been uncovered.

On Tuesday County Solicitor Thomas F. Clifford of Franklin commenced an investigation. Coroner Conn and assistants performed an autopsy, locating the two bullets, one of which passed through the right breast. They concluded that both shots were fired at close range, as the heavy overcoat which Fellows wore was badly scorched.

It seems probable that the murderer stepped on the front step of the grocery wagon and facing Fellows, fired the fatal shots. No loud talk was heard and there was no evidence of a struggle. If the motive was robbery the murderer must have known that it was Mr. Fellows' habit to carry his money home with him every night, and further that he had been accumulating quite a large amount of late to be applied to a special purpose.

The cash drawer in Mr. Fellows' little store is situated near a window, so that any one reconnoitering could see his last act in his pocket.

He usually drove home alone. Until the little settlement in which is located his home is reached the road is without houses and quite a distance and is dark for long stretches, although there are occasional electric lights down the road.

The strange manner in which the deed was perpetrated and which lends some of the authorities to think that it might have been a case of revenge lies in the fact that the spot selected for the shooting was not further off in the road in one of the lonely and dark places rather than almost at Fellows' door and quite near an electric light.

Not Known to Have an Enemy.

In controversy of this theory however, is the statement of Mrs. Fellows, her daughter and all the relatives and neighbors that the dead man, never to their knowledge, had an enemy and never had any trouble either with his store or farm help.

THE GRANITE STATE

Magazine of Battleship New Hampshire Just Issued.

The Granite State is the title of an attractive little magazine issued by P. C. Shelton and J. J. Hatchford, on the battleship New Hampshire.

It is from the Chronicle press and ready for delivery today on the ship. The magazine deals entirely with happenings on board the big ship and matters of interest to the navy and it is especially interesting and attractive to the crew. It is well done and illustrated with several fine cuts of life aboard the ship. The cover is especially attractive, having been designed by L. D. Randall of this city and stamps that young man as a draftsman of ability. The design consists of two sailors directing the rays of two search lights on a screen, and the picture made is being watched by the family gathering at home. The search lights are particularly well drawn, and also the figures in the family.

It looks like snow for Thanksgiving.

New Edison Records for DECEMBER

Out To-Day

THERE is music—good music—to while away the long evening, entertain guests, keep the young people home, liven up an entertainment or furnish music for a dance, in these new Edison Records, both Standard and Amberol.

ZELAYA STIRRING UP TROUBLE

New Orleans, Nov. 24.—The Pic-ing in Nicaragua jails.

ayue's cable from Colon says:

"A wireless message from Port Limon, Costa Rica, says the U. S. cruiser Des Moines has gone to Greytown, Nicaragua, to make an official investigation of the killing of Cannon and Grace, the Americans who were shot by order of Zelaya.

"Passengers arriving from Nicaragua ports report that a number of Americans who were engaged in business in Nicaragua are missing, and it is believed that they are languishing in the gringo conspiracy."

"Pres. Zelaya has plastered all of that portion of Nicaragua controlled by him with flaming posters, denouncing the Americans in the most bitter and violent language. The Americans are accused of fomenting the present revolutionary movement for the purpose of annexing Nicaragua to the United States. The proclamation calls upon all loyal Nicaraguans to rally around the Nicaraguan flag and urges them to help Zelaya to thwart the gringo conspiracy."

TWO DROWNED AT NEWBURYPORT

Newburyport, Nov. 24.—David McKenzie, aged 38, of Boston, and Di Gangi Calogero, aged 23, of Boston were drowned in the Merrimack river at noon Tuesday.

Di Gangi Calogero, aged 23, and Jere Landry, aged 25, both of Boston, were rescued in an exhausted condition.

All four men were working for Holbrook, Cabot and Rollins Boston contractors, who are rebuilding the historic chain bridge over the Merrimack river.

They were in a boat stretching a cable. In pulling a line to trip an anchor, the craft was overturned and all four men were precipitated into the water.

McKenzie and Calogero sank at once. The other two came to the overturned boat until they were rescued by drawtender Averill of the Deer Island bridge. The men were taken to the Citizens' railroad on Darius, where they were revived by local physicians.

The police of this city and Amesbury sent grainpots and the river is being dragged for the bodies of McKenzie and Calogero.

The tide runs very swiftly at the place of the accident. McKenzie was a working foreman and had been with the company 10 years. He left a family.

A teachers' institute will be held in Greenland on Dec. 3. It will be under the direction of Sup't. H. C. Morrison of the New Hampshire department of public instruction.

NEW MANAGEMENT

For the Leach & Lydston Horse Shoeing Establishment

Philip Duffy, an expert horseshoer, has taken full charge of the horse shoeing at the old Leach and Lydston establishment.

Mr. Lydston states that he feels himself entitled to a rest after forty-seven years of hard work at the anvil and forge. He has been free from sickness in all that time, a fact which he attributes to his use of pure water as a drink, having abstained from even such mild stimulants as tea and coffee. He thanks the public for patronage under his management and assures them that the new management is worthy of a continuance of patronage.

Mr. Duffy, the new manager, has secured A. J. Wallace of Bath, Me., a first class workman, to be his assistant.

The establishment is in the same quarters No. 16 Fleet street, telephone 162.

AT NAVY YARD

North Dakota Home Port Boston

Thousands of Turkeys for Thanksgiving

No Long Liberty for Crews of Gunboats

The Collier Sterling Is on the Way Here with Coal

Will Go in Style

A special train of seven cars, will take the football team, band and members of the crew of the U. S. S. Wisconsin to Newburyport on Thursday where the sailors play the strong Newburyport team.

Look at This

One will understand what Thanksgiving means to the navy men when it takes 2055 pounds of turkey to feed the enlisted men at the yard on Thursday. This is nevertheless a fact and the amount furnished by John Holland is divided as follows: U. S. S. New Hampshire, 1,100 pounds; U. S. S. Wisconsin, 650 pounds; U. S. S. Southern and Topeka, 475 pounds; Marine Barracks, 350 pounds; U. S. S. Paducah, 125 pounds; U. S. S. Duquesne, 125 pounds; Naval hospital, 80 pounds; U. S. S. Patuxent, 50 pounds.

At Home for the Holiday

Thomas D. Hogan, stenographer in the manufacturing department, will pass the remainder of the week at his home in West Newton, Mass.

Gone on as Fireman

Winfield Tobey of Kittery Point has been called for duty as fireman in the manufacturing department.

No Time Off

Owing to the fact that the gunboats Paducah and Duquesne are needed for duty at Nicaragua, none of the crews of these ships are allowed only short shore liberty.

Gunboats to be Docked

The gunboats Paducah and Duquesne will be docked at the same time the first of next week.

Going Home for a Stay

Many of the employees have been granted leave of absence to visit their homes in other cities for the remainder of the week.

Her Home Port is Boston

The recent orders issued by the bureau of navigation at Washington have directed that the U. S. S. North Dakota be assigned to Boston navy yard as her home port after the ship is placed in commission.

To Much of a Good Thing

Most every official attached to this yard and station have taken the prescribed walking test of fifty miles and it's a safe guess to say they are all pleased that this request and ruling of ex-President Roosevelt has been fulfilled.

Much Sorrow Expressed

Expressions of grief are heard on all sides today relative to the death of Chief Draftsman Martin A. Pease.

No member of the classified employees was more esteemed than Mr. Pease and since he took up his duties at the yard he has made a host of friends who loyally felt his death.

No Orders at Boston

Officials at the Charlestown navy yard said yesterday no orders had been received to send ships or marines to Nicaragua. It was the opinion that if further force were needed at Nicaragua it would be drawn from southern navy yards.

Considerable work on minor repairs is being done on vessels at the yard. The ships now there are the first class cruiser New York, the battleships New Jersey and Vermont, the second class cruisers Birmingham and Salem and the torpedo boat destroyer Flusser. None of these vessels will be ready to leave the yard for a month.

At Boston Hospital

William Robinson, a fireman in the central power plant has been removed to the Carney Hospital, Boston, for treatment for appendicitis.

Sterling Coming with Coal

The collier Sterling left Newport News on Tuesday with 2300 tons of coal for this yard. The storm now prevailing will probably delay the vessel on her trip to this station.

MARTIN A. PEASE

Well Beloved Man Ended His Life by Suicide

Much sorrow is expressed in the death of Martin A. Pease, which occurred early this morning at his home on Hawthorne street following an illness.

Deceased has of late been absent from his duties at the navy yard with a severe case of grip, which left him in a condition that developed dispendency. Though every aid was rendered by loving hands, the loss of hope and happiness gained control of his mind and he ended his useful life by a shot from a 32 calibre revolver in his room shortly after midnight this morning.

Mr. Pease had for some time been connected with the drafting force in the bureau of public works at the navy yard, coming here about seven years ago from Burlington, Vt. He was a friend to every person who had the pleasure of his acquaintance and an enemy was a stranger to him. At the navy yard, where he was known among the officials as well as the clerical force, much sorrow is expressed in the young man's untimely death.

Deceased was a native of Springfield, Mass., thirty-two years of age, a graduate of the University of Vermont, and served for a time in the Massachusetts naval reserves.

Besides his wife he leaves his mother and one sister, who reside in Springfield.

GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Mary Corcoran Answers the Final Summons

The dread messenger of death today took from our midst another of the old residents of this city, Mrs. Mary Corcoran, widow of the late Michael Corcoran, who ended her earthly suffering at the age of 55 years.

For nearly a year she has been confined to the Cottage Hospital, where she bore her long sickness with the most Christian fortitude, and her death came as a relief and a reward for her suffering.

She was best known among the people of the Catholic faith and her life was marked by the good she rendered, especially in aiding the sick. No appeal for assistance coming from a person, regardless of creed or color, ever went unnoticed by her and heart and hand always went out to those who needed a friend. She was happy most in seeing others happy, and her devotion was most manifested in her home and children which certainly was returned by her two daughters, whose loving hands have night and day rendered every aid possible to prolong her life since she was confined to the hospital.

Mrs. Corcoran was a native of England, but most of her life has been passed in this city where a wide circle of friends now mourn her loss. She is survived by two daughters, Misses Annie and Josephine, who both reside in this city.

PROGRAMME FOR TONIGHT AT MUSIC HALL

The programme for tonight's pictures of the Johnson-Ketchell fight pictures will be as follows: "Cohan at Coney Island," "Cohan's Dream of Coney Island," "The Carphone," "The Rube and the Duco Man," 4000 feet of the Johnson-Ketchell fight pictures.

Edward J. Farrell of Boston will lecture on the fight and describe each picture as it is shown.

Says the Cook:

"It's the stove, Madam, that's no good."

Says the Slave:

"It's the COAL, Madam, that's no good."

Says the Mistress:

"We'll change coal and try."

C. E. WALKER & CO.

If their coal is as good as their customers say it is we won't have to buy a new stove."

A MONTH AFTER!

Says the old Slave:

"I told you so."
